51. Read the passage below and answer the questions that follow in full sentences

It was a Friday afternoon when all pupils where exited. Why the excitement? This was because of the long awaited debate competitions at Serena primary school. The primary seven candidates were versing primary six pupils. The motion was "CHILDREN SHOULD BE GIVEN ACCESS TO INTERNET". At exactly 2:00pm, the pupils were already seated in the school main hall waiting.

The chairperson Namugenyi Pouline called the house to order. The time keeper and the secretary were seated next to her. The time keeper had his watch set plus a small bell. The same goes to the secretary who had a pen and papers. The audience sat quietly ready to listen to the speakers' points and options.

The debate was wonderful. All speakers presented very strong points. There reached a point where one of the opposers Katwere Martin, could not stop talking. The keeper rang the bell several times until the teacher Mr. Konyo stood up to put the debate in order. Katwere was sent away from the room. The audience clapped. They said that it is bad for a debater to disrespect others.

After an hour of arguments, points of orders and information. The debate ended. It had been a draw. The class teacher stood up and addressed the audience. He thanked all organisers and wished them a happy weekend.

Questions.

With great pleasure at school

I sit and plan for my holidays.

As taught by teachers

The planning that helps me and my parents.

For I revise books and work on farms.

Oh, what a good planning this is!

I prepare for the coming exams.

In gardens, I am there and at home.

With house work, I relieve my parents.

Indeed, all are proud of me.

Fellow holiday makers, always plan for holidays

Remember, helping parents is our work

More so, do not forget studies.

For certain, you will prosper
