Dear Suzan

Hope you are doing well. Thank you for the letter you sent me. It really made me miss you the more. You will miss the wedding of our elder sister, Nina.

I am writing to congratulate you on completing your course in tailoring. You are the first seamstress in our family and we are proud of you.

I am, therefore, going to send you some money so that you can organise your graduation party. On the side of food, remember to book with Mr. Lule, the best chef we have in town. Mrs. Agaba, the baker, will make a cake of four tiers. I think it will be enough.

I prefer a chocolate cake to a vanilla one, so order a chocolate cake.

I would like to inform you that even uncle Mark has said that he would rather miss the wedding than your graduation party. The old carpenter who made Daddy's comfortable arm-chair will also attend the graduation.

I look forward to seeing you a successful seamstress in the family.

Your sister

Lillian
