Dear Mum,

It's two weeks since I reported to school. I hope that you are doing well. I am now settling and getting used to my new classmates. Miss Mbatudde Mellisa is such a friendly class teacher that she has made me to feel at home.

Mum, I am writing to inform you that Stella has begun misbehaving. I saw a letter she received from Edgar, that boy in Mr. Kalanzi's home. I tried to ask her why she should have a boyfriend at her age but she abused me. I forcefully advised her against it even if she got annoyed with me. I suggest that you talk to Mr. Kalanzi to warn his nephew against misleading my sister.

On the other hand, our teachers are preparing us for the forthcoming Primary Leaving Examination. I promise you that I am trying my best to improve so that I can get a good first grade. Regards to my lovely dad and baby Jonathan.

Your affectionate daughter,
Cindy

It is indeed good!
Having a lovely time with them
The relatives you're attached to
By blood, not just by friendship
Everyone must know their own.

It's indeed fun!
My brothers and sisters there with me
'John, come we play together' they say
One time skipping ropes, another, dodgeball
Mummy and Daddy under a mango tree, smiling.

It is indeed all happiness!
The time our cousins come around
With Uncle Twala and Aunt Joy
Chickens sentenced to death that time
For us we care less, enjoyment, our target

Fellow children, listen to me!
Knowing our relatives, we must
Is there any you've not met?
Ask your parents to take you there
For our relatives, we must know them.

Emma: You are Ben, aren't you?

Ben :

Emma: Good afternoon to you. Where did go after your PLE?

Ben :

Emma: Makerere College School! Are you still there?

Ben :

Emma: In which class are you?

Ben :

Emma : Oh! I see. Senior three is the class I am in too. How is your young sister, Grace?

Ben :

Emma : She passed on three weeks ago! I am ashamed! What caused her death?

Ben :

Emma : She was trying to carryout abortion! Our teacher used to warn us against involving ourselves in early sex. How about Linda?

Ben :

Emma: She's with you at the same school ! Is she well-mannered?

Ben :

Emma : That is very good then. Man, we should be careful with our lives but our sisters should be more careful.

Ben :

Emma : That is good if you agree with me. Thanks for your time, Ben.
